

REVELATION—UNVEILING THE END, ACT III: THE FINAL CURTAIN

COMPELLING WORDS FOR A CONFUSED CULTURE

REVELATION 22:6–16

The Heart of the Matter

John's Apocalypse provides exactly what the coming end-times generation—and every generation—needs: objective, certified, reliable truth. When armed with truth, people can face with greater security, faith, and courage the deceitful spirits, demonic doctrines, and hypocritical lies that will define the latter days.

Discovering the Way

1. The Testimony of an Angel (Revelation 22:6–7)

Referring to both the incredible vision of the New Jerusalem and the content of Revelation as a whole, the angel verified the authenticity of John's words as "faithful and true."

2. The Testimony of John (Revelation 22:8–11)

In John's sense of wonder, we see a profound respect for the truth the Lord allowed him to see. In the same way, we are to respect the revealed Word of God, we are to reject the worship of anyone other than the Lord our God, and we are to remember the warnings given in this book.

3. The Testimony of Jesus (Revelation 22:12–16)

Jesus issued four declarations, each of which summarizes a major message in the book of Revelation: My coming is sure, never late. My rewards are just, never biased. My presence is transcendent, never irrelevant. My plan is clear, never vague.

Starting Your Journey

Even though some may deny the very existence of truth, the power of truth is undeniable, as evidenced by these three observations:

1. Security comes from knowing the truth.
2. Faith is strengthened by believing the truth.
3. Courage is the result of acting on the truth.
